

XM Radio provides a value of services not available on regular commercial radio. These services should not be subject to the National Association of Broadcasters desire to limit them. Competition in our free market society dictates that they can provide these services as well, not stifle the competition. Fairness, balance and equity should rule the day!